Property Description

Watch down from heaven as you sit above the clouds with an endless 360-degree view of the southern zone of Costa Rica. The vast views span along the Pacific and into the Golfo Dulce; from Matapalo to Golfito and deep into the gulf. The never-ending vistas of Pavones, Playa Zancudo, and the Panamanian mountain range including Volcan Baru will keep your eyes, and imagination busy for hours. There is nothing like the sensation of being in the clouds as they roll along the valley below at La Casa Celestial - The Heavenly House. urn-key and fully furnished. This home has never been lived in full time; so it feels like a brand new build that was completed in 2019. This can be your “new home” with the space to customize it and make it your own. The current finishes are designed to give the feeling of being connected to the sky. Soothing greys and earth tones complement the surrounding area. The views from the windows become a masterpiece of art that could not be duplicated.
